To be selected as a 40 Under 40 honoree requires business success, leadership skills and a high level of community involvement.

But those who were picked go beyond even that high bar: They also must be involved in shaping the community in which they live and work.

The 40 honorees were picked from a record number of nominees in consultation with a range of Jacksonville's business leaders. The honorees represent a range of industries and background, but they're united in their desire to help the First Coast grow into the best community it can be.

To understand how the First Coast's young business leaders are adapting and excelling in a crisis, we took a look at how they've been dealing with the pandemic and where they want to see the First Coast in the future.

The honorees will be celebrated at an event sponsored by BBVA that will be held later in the fall. More details will be forthcoming.
